

Human Protection of Research Subjects online educational module

The Genesys Institutional Review Board (IRB) requires that all personnel participating in human subject research complete an online educational module on the protection of human research subjects.

When submitting a research application to the IRB for review, researchers must first complete the following Human Protection of Research Subjects online educational module:

This educational module is offered by the National Institutes of Health (NIH), a part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services – the primary federal agency for conducting and supporting medical research. The module is free to complete and is required for all primary and co-investigators – including residents. Residents are advised to complete the module during their first year at Genesys.

A certificate of completion will be available to print upon completion of the module. Please forward the certificate to the Genesys Office of Research - HP RM 2442 or submit with your research proposal via IRBnet.org
